The Australian Centre for Grief and Bereavement is a not-for-profit organisation established to provide a range of education, counselling, research and clinical services for those working with, or affected by, grief and bereavement.

Practitioner Certification
The Certified Bereavement Practitioner (CBP) Program is designed to ensure that bereavement practitioners who have undertaken specialised training are given due recognition. For further information about this program, please email certification@grief.org.au

Journal
Grief Matters: The Australian Journal of Grief and Bereavement is published three times annually, and informs health professionals and those working with bereaved people, of current research and practice in loss and grief.

Website
For all the latest news, information and resources visit the Australian Centre for Grief and Bereavement’s website www.grief.org.au

Resources
The Australian Centre for Grief and Bereavement has an extensive range of grief and bereavement resources available for purchase by professionals and the general public.

Reference library
The reference collection contains over 1,000 books and journals and is one of the largest collections of grief and bereavement literature in Australia.

Donations
Help us to provide services such as bereavement counselling, support groups, newsletters, events, education and training. To make a donation, visit www.grief.org.au
Membership
Membership of the Australian Centre for Grief and Bereavement offers a wide range of benefits, including receipt of Grief Matters: The Australian Journal of Grief and Bereavement, member discounts on education and training events and much more.

For full details on the membership options and benefits available, please refer to our website www.grief.org.au or call us today on 1800 642 066.

About the Centre
The Australian Centre for Grief and Bereavement (ACGB), is an independent, not-for-profit organisation established in 1996 to provide a range of counselling and support services, education, training, research and consultancy for those working with, or affected by, grief and bereavement.

Opportunities are available for those working with grieving people and for members of the community to attend seminars, workshops and courses; to undertake clinical placements; and to receive specialist supervision.

ACGB is also funded by the Victorian Government Department of Health to provide a statewide Specialist Bereavement Service for individuals and families who need assistance following the death of someone close to them. A range of specialist bereavement services and programs are provided.

Bereavement Counselling and Support Service
ACGB operates a statewide Specialist Bereavement Counselling and Support Service for Victoria (toll free 1300 664 786). This program is funded by the Victorian Government Department of Health and provides support for bereaved clients as well as bereavement advice and consultation to workers in other settings.

Services include:
• counselling
• support groups
• written resources
• remembrance events
• practitioner consultation and support.

Services are available in:
• metropolitan Melbourne
• regional Victoria (Gippsland, Barwon South-West, Hume, Grampians, and Loddon Mallee).

Education and Training Services
ACGB offers high quality, evidence-based education and training for health professionals, students, volunteers and other individuals or agencies seeking to enhance grief and bereavement knowledge and practice.

Education and training programs are offered as:
• workshops
• seminars
• short and long courses
• customised training
• conferences
• international educator events
• webinars.

Education sessions are run throughout Australia in both metropolitan and regional locations.

ACGB also offers nationally accredited training programs, including the Graduate Certificate in Bereavement Counselling and Intervention and the Certificate IV in Bereavement Support.

For more information regarding education and training opportunities, contact the Australian Centre for Grief and Bereavement on 1800 642 066 or email education@grief.org.au.