ABOUT OUR COMMUNITY

The City of Monash is a culturally diverse community in Melbourne’s south eastern suburbs, between 13 and 24 kilometres from Melbourne’s Central Business District.

Monash is home to around 200,000 people, making us one of Victoria’s most populous municipalities. We are one of Victoria’s most multicultural communities, with 49% of our residents having been born overseas.

Leafy streetscapes are a feature of our area, as are the 600 hectares of parks, gardens and reserves. We have excellent sporting facilities catering for football, netball, cricket, swimming, basketball, soccer, softball, golf and more.

Monash is home to some of Melbourne’s best known institutions, including the Monash Medical Centre, Monash University and the Victoria Police Academy.

Together, businesses in Monash employ more than 135,000 people. This makes Monash the second largest employment destination in Melbourne, after the Central Business District.

Please note: inside this document the symbol is used to indicate Council-run services.

If there is any out-of-date information in this directory, please let us know so we can update in our next edition. Please ring 📞 9518 3618 or email ✉️ emily.webb@monash.vic.gov.au

Members of the community are welcome to attend Council’s monthly meetings. These meetings are generally held at the Monash Civic Centre on the last Tuesday of the month, from 7pm.

Community members are welcome to submit questions in advance for consideration at the meetings.

You can subscribe to receive the Monash Bulletin via email, either in English or one of the three other languages.

Rates
Annual rate notices are mailed to all Monash ratepayers each July/August. Ratepayers have the option of paying their rates in: 10 instalments; four instalments; or in one full payment. Monash Council has worked hard to keep its rates as low as possible as we know this is important to our community. Monash Council has the lowest average rates of all 79 Victorian councils.

ANIMALS

Lost Cats or Dogs
If you find a lost dog or cat wandering in your neighbourhood, please report it to Council immediately by calling ☎️ 9518 3555 (during office hours and after hours). Dogs or cats found wandering in Monash are taken to the RSPCA (in Burwood) where they are cared for until their owners can be located.

Registration and compulsory cat desexing
All cats and dogs aged over 3 months must be microchipped and registered with Council. Registrations must be renewed each April. From 1 January 2015 onwards, cats that are registered with Monash Council for the first time must be desexed. Exemptions apply, for example if a vet advises against desexing for health reasons. The aim of this mandatory cat desexing law is to reduce the number of unwanted stray cats.

☎️ 9518 3555

Dog Off Leash Areas
Dogs must be on leashes in public places at all times except in the 31 designated “off leash” areas listed here. For a map showing the leash free areas, visit ☝️ www.monash.vic.gov.au or call ☎️ 9518 3555

Pest Control
Wasps
The most effective way to get rid of a wasp nest is to destroy the nest. If you have European wasps nesting on your property, it is your responsibility to have them removed. To remove the nest you can contact a wasp company by looking under ‘P’ for Pest Controller in the Yellow Pages or searching online. Alternatively, if you feel confident you can treat the nest yourself.

Rodents
Rats and mice are a common problem. If you are having problems with rodents, then the following may assist:

On your own land: You can either treat the problem yourself, or engage the services of a professional pest control company. If treating it yourself, poison baits and traps can be purchased at supermarkets and hardware stores. Wax block balls are the best for external areas where the bait is likely to get wet. Dry pellet balls are more suitable for indoors.

On your neighbour’s land: You can talk to your neighbour yourself, or you can advise Council’s Public Health Unit and a Public Health Officer will visit your neighbour to advise them of the problem.

To report a business that sells tobacco to minors or allows smoking indoors or in outdoor dining areas, contact Monash Council’s Public Health Unit.

Monash has local laws which are in place to protect the amenity and safety of our community. These local laws cover matters such as: requiring people to maintain their properties so they don’t cause a fire risk; providing areas where dogs can be exercised off leash; and banning smoking near children’s playgrounds.

Noise pollution is with us almost all the time but we often do not recognise how serious its effects can be. When dealing with noisy neighbours, the ideal approach is to talk to them and work together to find a solution.

Sometimes noisy neighbours are not aware that they making unreasonable noise, or that they are annoying or disturbing you. Often talking to them can lead to changes that benefit you both.

If talking to your neighbour does not resolve the problem there are other options. A branch of the Department of Justice called Dispute Settlement Centre of Victoria is available to assist in resolving any civil matter. The service is free and confidential.

Through mediation, both parties aim to reach an amicable agreement. The Dispute Settlement Centre of Victoria can be contacted on 1300 372 888. Alternatively, visit www.disputes.vic.gov.au

The Police and Council can also be called upon to see if they can assist with resolving the noise problem. Council may be able to assist you if the noise is deemed to be a nuisance pursuant to the Health Act 1958. The noise would need to be a nuisance and also dangerous to health or offensive (or liable to be so). Council’s Public Health Unit will be able to provide you with advice.

Noise from music/parties that occurs after hours should be referred to the police, as they can deal with the noise as it is occurring if they deem it to be unreasonable. The Public Protection (Residential Noise) Regulations 2008 are a guide as to the times of day certain noises may be deemed to be unreasonable.

www.epa.vic.gov.au/noise

Annual Hard and Green Waste Collection
An annual Hard and Green Waste Collection is held in Monash once per year, generally in August/September. During this time, residents can place unwanted items and green waste (such as prunings) out on the nature strip for collection.

Residents who wish to have a 240-litre rubbish bin can do so if they pay a fee. To ensure your bin is collected, place it on the nature strip the night before collection. On public holidays, collections will occur as usual.

Branches should be no longer than 30cm and no larger than 10cm in diameter. The collection takes place on alternate weeks to the fortnightly recycling collection.

To ensure your green waste bin is collected, place it on the nature strip the night before collection. Do not place general household rubbish, plastic bags, plant pots, paper, large logs or stumps, rubble or dirt in your green waste bin.

9518 3555

Recycling Collection
Monash residents have a 240-litre bin with a yellow lid for a fortnightly recycling collection.

This can be used to dispose of glass and plastic jars/bottles; hard plastic food and drink containers including those with the recycling indicator marks ; aluminium and steel cans and milk/juice cartons; and newspapers; magazines; office paper, phone books and envelopes.

Please flatten cardboard boxes before placing them in the recycling bin.
Do not place plastic bags, polystyrene, or other rubbish into your recycling bin. To ensure your recycling bin is collected, place it on the nature strip the night before collection.

WHAT TO DO IN AN EMERGENCY

Emergency Management Plan
The Monash area has its own Municipal Emergency Management Plan for handling natural disasters and emergencies. This plan is coordinated through Victoria Police by a Municipal Emergency Response Coordinator. It sets out the procedures that will be followed when Council and community resources are required in the case of an emergency.

Monash is generally a low risk area, however storm, flood damage, a major transport emergency or chemical spillage may require an appropriate and prompt response. It is important for residents to know how the Municipal Emergency Management Plan operates and what to do in an emergency.

Under the Municipal Emergency Management Plan, many services can be called in to help including:

- Ambulance, Fire and Police services
- Council
- Service authorities (e.g. water, electricity, gas)
- Victorian Department of Human Services
- Other State and Federal Government departments
- The media.

These organisations all have a specific role to play, depending on the nature of the emergency and the need at the time.

How to prepare for emergencies
You can prepare for an emergency by keeping supplies such as:

- Candles
- Torches
- First-aid kits
- Canned food etc.
Emergency Management

All members of your family should know where these supplies are kept in your house. Do not depend on power and telephones as they will often fail in an emergency. Radios may be your only means of contact during an emergency – ensure you have a battery-powered radio, and keep spare batteries handy.

Know how and where to turn off your gas, electricity and water. Keep this directory by your telephone, as this information (and the list of important phone numbers on page 3) will always be handy.

What to do in an Emergency

• Stay tuned to a battery-powered radio or TV where possible, to avoid electricity use. A Standard Emergency Warning signal is often used on radio or TV to precede official messages

• Listen carefully as the messages will include instructions on what is happening and what you should do. The warning signal does NOT mean to evacuate

• Police will attempt to notify non-English speaking members of the community with the use of interpreters and ethnic radio stations, however residents should take some responsibility for looking after neighbours who may be elderly, sick or who do not speak English

• Protect pets by ensuring that they can be moved readily if evacuation is necessary

• Use your phone only for emergency. Keep lines clear for essential calls

• If you are not affected, stay home leaving the roads clear for emergency vehicles.

Evacuation Centres

A number of evacuation centres have been established by Council within the municipality. In the event of an emergency, you may be instructed to evacuate by a police door-knock in your area, or by radio/TV messages. You will be advised at the time of the location of the evacuation centre to which you should report.

Extreme Heat

Heat kills more Australians than any other natural disaster

Remember:
• Drink Water
• Hot cars kill
• Keep cool
• Plan ahead
• Help others

People facing emergency medical situations as a result of the heat, or those dealing with fire should ring 000.

Others needing less urgent medical assistance should contact their doctor Nurse on Call on 1300 60 60 24 (24 hours).

Groups particularly vulnerable to the effects of hot weather include the elderly, young children, pregnant women, persons with a disability, the frail and the sick. Council encourages you to look after yourself and to check in with your elderly, frail or sick friends, relatives and neighbours during hot weather days.
